

DEAR MEMBERS OF THE IALMS,

In these last weeks which are closing the year, I wish send you a message for resuming all our activity and for reminding the events upcoming in the new year. We participated, as IALMS, to APALMS Congress in Bangkok October, and I have to say that it was a very successful event, with the participation of the most important experts in the field of laser in medicine and surgery.

The very high scientific level of the contributions, coupled to the wonderful atmosphere of the town and to the perfect management don by the organizing committee, guided by Prof. Apirag Chuangsuwanich, made these days very beautiful and important for all of us.

The IALMS is co-sponsor of research projects about the epigenetic and the effects of biophotons in the science and in human body, involved in a Cluster called Egocreanet, held in the Incubator Institute of Florence University, directed by Prof. Paolo Manzelli.

We are organizing an open research project about the effects of laser and light on diabetes type 1 and 2. The IALMS participated at the event Biofotonica – IV Forum Internacional de Laserterapia, held in Sao Paulo of Brazil, University 9 de Julio, coordinated by Prof . E. Porta and R. Labat Marcos.

AND THE NEW INCOMING YEAR IS FULL OF EVENTS!

The first of them is the congress of ISLMS, WFLD and IPTA in Taipei at the end of June.

The Chairmen, prof. KAO and Prof. CHENG, are preparing a great program with the participation of the best expert in the field as invited speakers and, for this reason, I suggest to all the members of IALMS to participate to this important event.

WORLD LASER MEDICINE CONGRESS 2019

June 28-30, 2019

Taipei International Convention Center, Taiwan

After summer, on 6th and 7th of November, Laser Florence Congress will celebrate its 30th edition and also the 500th anniversary of the death of Leonardo Da Vinci.

We are organizing for you a rich program, articulated in many different sessions to offer a complete overview on all the surgical, medical and veterinary applications of laser technology.

The Congress will be sponsored by the greatest international and national Institutions, and inserted in the program of continuous medical education of the different countries, including the Italy one, Europe and North-America.

The best relationships and poster will be winners, the abstracts and the proceedings will be published by accredited magazines.

This is the draft of preliminary program:
